

Public Education Forums of The American Ground Water Trust

A Seminar for Drinking Water Suppliers: Solving Contaminated Ground Water Problems
City of Industry, California
July 28, 1988

Ground Water: The Key to Our Future
Fresno, California
September 26, 1989

New Insights on the Potential for Ground Water Utilization
West Warwick, Rhode Island
October 18, 1989

Ground Water, Septic Systems and Land-Use Planning
Rochester, Minnesota
December 12, 1989

Monitoring and Remediation of Dense Non-Aqueous Phase Liquids in Fractured Bedrock
Atlanta, Georgia
September 18, 1990

10726511

We invite your comments about this program:

Thank you for your consideration.

Please return your comments to an event organizer, speaker, or mail them to:

The American Ground Water Trust

6375 Riverside Drive

Dublin, Ohio 43017

For those Americans who use ground water from wells - and wish they knew more about their water supply - have them call the toll-free information line of The American Ground Water Trust.

1-800-423-7748

Available 24 hours, every day.

The American Ground Water Trust

The American Ground Water Trust has served important educational roles since 1975. Today, the Trust's expanded broad-based, national program provides Americans with accurate, comprehensive ground water information and education.

Headquartered at Dublin, Ohio, The American Ground Water Trust is a non-profit public foundation incorporated in the state of Ohio and is exempt from federal income taxation under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Schlumberger Environmental Services, Inc.

Schlumberger is a broadly based international business and operates in more than 100 countries throughout the world. Schlumberger is comprised of two business segments: Oilfield Services and Measurements & Systems. Schlumberger Environmental Services is a company that oversees the internal environmental work for the corporation in North America.

For additional information, contact:

The American Ground Water Trust
Kevin B. McCray, Executive Director
6375 Riverside Drive
Dublin, Ohio 43017
614-761-2215

Schlumberger Environmental Services, Inc.
Linda E. Jennett, Director - Environmental Affairs
105 North Spring Street
Greenville, South Carolina 29601
803-233-0916